Chic - Program Note

Scored for three percussionists, Chic was premiered at Small World Coffee in Princeton, NJ, in July 2014, and written in the spring of 2014 in New York, NY.

Following the premiere, I was very intrigued by the initial live recording I received, as it captured much of the ambient noise in the coffee shop during the performance. I therefore decided to create a sort of “remix” from the rough live recording, utilizing the ambient noise to envision the piece in a new approach.

Special thanks to the performers: Robby Bowen, Caitlin Cawley, and Neil Rao for all their work on the piece, and to everyone at the So Percussion Summer Institute.
